Two Great Ways To Expand Your Computer's Memory!

1750 Clone

Supercharge Your C64 or C128!

$199.95

Works with all Your 1750 Compatible Software!

THE 1750 CLONE. When Commodore designed its 1750 RAM expansion, Commodore owners snapped them up. For their money, they got a full 512K of RAM. More important, they were able to dramatically improve the performance of their software.

As good as the 1750 was, there was just one problem: Commodore didn't make enough of them. In fact, 1750s have been unavailable for more than a year.

At last, TENEX has a solution: the 1750 Clone. The 1750 Clone offers 512K just like the 1750, and works with all software that is 1750 compatible (e.g., GEOS, Paperclip III, and Maverick). Furthermore, you can use it to create a RAM disk to store files or programs for lightning-fast access. (Unlike GEORAM, the 1750 Clone works with non-GEOS software.)

Make the big switch: add another 512K of memory to your system today, and watch your software fly!

IMPORTANT NOTE. The 1750 works with both the C64/64C and the C128. To use with the C64/64C requires a heavy-duty power supply (not included with the 1750 Clone— see below). To use with the C128 or 128D, no additional power supply is needed— the standard factory power supply is fine.

1750 Clone 89517 $199.95
C64/64C Power supply for use with the 1750 Clone 89503 $44.95

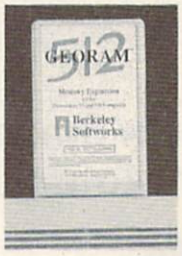
GEORAM— The Wait is Over!

35 Times Faster Than Disk Drives!

"A really impressive upgrade...it can practically eliminate the...disk access you normally encounter. I wouldn't be without RAM expansion." —Run Magazine

"My RAM expander is the most cost-effective purchase I've ever made. Try one, and you'll never go back to magnetic media." —Computer Shopper

"The difference between operating...on a 640K machine instead of a 128K machine could be compared to flying a jet and walking. Tasks that would normally cause a delay while the disk was accessed run at the speed of light..." —Commodore Magazine



$134.95

How fast is GEORAM? Believe it or not, GEORAM's disk transfer rate is actually 35 times faster than the 1541, 1571, or 1581 disk drive. This means that screens redraw in a flash, and that your Commodore doesn't waste time spinning disks looking for data.

If you use your computer for GEOS productivity applications like GeoWrite, GeoPaint, GeoPublish, or any of the other outstanding titles, you know these are the best programs ever written for the Commodore. GEORAM makes the GEOS family of programs faster and more powerful than ever. (For a complete list of GEOS applications, see page 28.) When you buy GEORAM from TENEX, you get the GEORAM unit itself plus a pair of disks to convert your existing GEOS (1.2, 1.3, or 2.0) to GEOS 2.0, a special version of GEOS designed to take full advantage of the 512K of memory in GEORAM. Both C-64 and C-128 versions are included, as is a comprehensive manual.

Don't sit there drumming your fingers waiting for your disk drive— call now to be the first on your block to move up to a new world of speed and power in Commodore computing.

GEORAM (requires GEOS) 88604 $134.95

NOTE: GEORAM is designed for use ONLY in the GEOS environment— it cannot be used with non-GEOS software. For a complete selection of GEOS products, see page 28.

MAVIS BEACON TEACHES TYPING. Forget the simple letter drills— when was the last time anyone typed "asdffdsa" at work? Using a combination of artificial intelligence and striking graphics, this program teaches typing faster than any program on the market.

Each lesson is tailored for work in the real world from a database of over 1,000 passages from history's greatest writings. For youngsters, Mavis offers jokes, riddles, rhymes, interesting facts and records from the Guiness Book of World Records.

Mavis "speaks" to her students in complete, conversational sentences as she analyzes typing errors and progress— with more than just "bleeps" when an incorrect key is hit. She even senses when the student is tired and suggests a break at the Indy Racer game!

Many other features are included in this outstanding typing tutor, such as: a metronome selection, Dvorak keyboard option, a resume writer, user-designed lessons, and suggestions for business teachers developing their own lessons. From Software Toolworks. Sug. Retail $39.95/$49.95

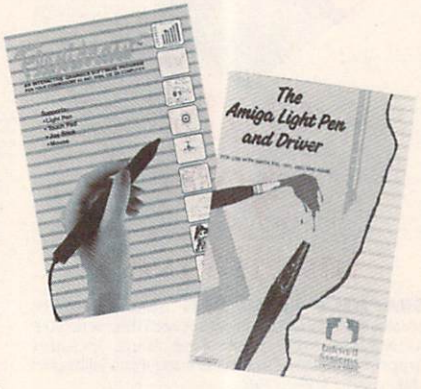
Free-hand Drawing with Flexidraw and Light Pens!

RAVE REVIEWS

"Professional quality graphics program... excellent line of light pens."
"There is no question in my mind you won't be disappointed"
—Commodore Magazine
"The best drawing program around"
—Midnight Gazette Software



Now For Amiga, Too!

FLEXIDRAW VERSION 5.5. This version of the ultimate drawing program has more features than ever. You can still use a light pen as your input tool (sold separately— see below), or you can use a mouse, joystick, or Koala pad. Whether you are doing simple free-hand sketches or complex CAD-type drawings, Flexi-draw has the power you need with its top-quality, hi-res graphic input and editing system. The master disk has the main drawing routines for use with the light pen, as well as sample drawing library, symbol templates, and a music synthesizer program. A programming mode lets you access the drawing routines from BASIC. The sprite editor/animator adds a great plus to FLEXIDRAW— there's no easier way to edit sprites than with a light pen. The most powerful feature is the ability to use a set of symbols (yours or ours) which can be moved to a second work screen and added to a drawing.

FLEXIDRAW is easy to use due to the sophisticated menu system which is similar to those of large computer drafting systems; maximum detail is possible. Free-hand drawing is very smooth because of an "averaging" function that filters out noise and jitter. From Inkwell Systems.

VIDEO TOASTER. Perhaps the most long-awaited peripheral in any computer market is NewTek's Video Toaster. Since it was first announced several years ago, excitement has grown as word of the Toaster's capabilities leaked out of NewTek. Now that the final product is out, experts are saying that NewTek has given the world a great new reason to buy Amigas.

The Video Toaster is more than a single product. It includes a Production Switcher, Digital Video Effects Generator, Character Generator, Paint Program, 3D Modeler, Animation System, and Color Processing Engine. The Toaster also includes two frame buffers. These products all have one objective: to allow the user to create professional video effects at a cost far lower than traditional studio equipment. It is no surprise that the early purchasers of the Toaster include hundreds of television stations, ad agencies, and other video professionals.

"Out of the Box", the Toaster lets you create animations and 16 million color static images, edit the images, do nifty switching effects between live video or laser disk and a stored static image, superimpose character generation over live video or stored still images, and more. You can output any of this to a VCR. To use a VCR or a camcorder for taped input, you'll need a device with a built-in time base corrector or a stand-alone time base corrector.

The special effects available are truly dazzling. Your generated characters can scroll vertically or crawl horizontally. Outlines and a variety of shadows are available. What the Toaster can do with still or moving images is phenomenal: images can be compressed, stretched, zoomed, and more. Over 100 digital effects are available, and, since they are software based, even more can be expected in the future. In its Production Switcher Mode, you can do fades, dissolves, wipes, slides, pushes, etc.

To use the Toaster, you'll need an Amiga 2000 series computer with at least 5MBytes of memory and a hard disk drive of at least 40MBytes.

Start your own video revolution today with a Video Toaster! Order soon - supplies are expected to be limited during the introduction period.

Enter The Exciting World Of Telecomputing!

One of the most popular uses of home computers is to "talk" to other computers and computer users. The diversity of on-line services is staggering—from the latest news to airline schedules, from stock prices to interactive adventure games, from electronic mail to patent searches—all you need is your computer, a modem, terminal software, and a phone line. In addition to the national on-line databases, like the Source, CompuServe, Dow Jones, and others, there are hundreds or even thousands of local "bulletin boards" run by user groups or individual enthusiasts. Telecomputing is so much fun and offers such a variety of activities that for many users it is the principal use of their home computer.

TENEX PERSONAL POWER SYSTEM. Presenting the best way in the world to harness the power of computing without the tribulations and wasted time of loading programs and learning "computerese." We've assembled a complete computer system with uncompromising power that comes ready to plug in and go. If you can point and click with a mouse, you can produce near-letter-quality documents, create sophisticated newsletters with powerful graphics, use an electronic rolodex, schedule appointments, and much more. All of this is accomplished using the critically acclaimed GeoWorks Ensemble computer management system.

The TENEX Personal Power System has already been configured for you. Just turn it on and you are greeted by a high-resolution amber video display with attractive, easy-to-use windows and logical "buttons" for powerful point-and-shoot applications.

With all of this incredible ease of use, you also get tremendous computing power, expandability, and quality. Our popular, full-size TENEX 286/16 computer incorporates only brand new components of the highest quality. Of course, all TENEX computers are guaranteed 100% IBM compatible. And everything in your system is covered by our full-year parts and labor warranty.

Our technical specifications are second to none! We've designed this system with your needs in mind. You get one full megabyte of RAM, a fast 40MByte hard drive loaded with Ensemble and DOS 4.01, a top-quality 101-key keyboard, a 1.2MByte floppy drive, and a Microsoft-compatible, three-button mouse. With four 16-bit expansion slots, two 8-bit slots, and two drive bays available, there's plenty of room for future upgrades such as scanners, modems, more disk drives, sound and music boards, video digitizers, etc.

The 12" high-resolution amber monitor comes with a flat screen and tilt/swivel base. While this is perfect for virtually all standard computer uses, you may prefer to upgrade to the brilliant, full-color VGA option. If ordered with your system, the VGA upgrade will be installed and tested for no additional charge.

We've given attention to even the smallest details to make this complete system perfect for you. Along with Panasonic's best-selling KX-P1180 near-letter-quality printer, we've added a printer cable, a sturdy printer stand, and 500 sheets of high-quality paper. In short, everything you need for power computing has been pulled together into one total package!

Compare this value anywhere! Others may make a computer for a few dollars less by using reconditioned drives, no-name keyboards, and "pulls" for memory chips. They may lump all the components on the systemboard, so that if one function fails, you're out the whole system. They may not worry about FCC class A and B approval or an iron-clad warranty and 30-day no-questions-asked refund. But we depend on your repeat business for our success. We are determined to provide you with the best computer systems, peripherals, and customer support available. We are dedicated to supporting you for the long term.

Hard Disk Full? Don't Panic— Expand it!

New Version!

STACKER. The Cadillac of disk compression tools! Stacker is the fastest and easiest way to expand your disk space. Stacker comes in two versions: software and coprocessor. The software version takes up only 30KByte of your RAM and is actually faster than competing hardware-based data compressors, and takes less than five minutes to install! The software version is perfect for laptops and other computers without expansion slots, as well as for users who don't want to open up their computer.

The coprocessor version plugs into an expansion slot in your computer (8- or short 16-bit slot required) and provides the ultimate in performance. It performs even better than the software version (about 10% greater compression and about 20% faster data transfer speed). For the fastest lossless data compression in the industry today, the Stacker coprocessor version is the only choice.

In addition to expanding your disk space, Stacker will actually improve the performance of your system because it includes caching. Caching can improve your system's performance by up to 100%. You actually get two powerful capabilities, caching and compression, for one low price.

Stacker guarantees compatibility, even with MS-DOS 4.01, Compaq DOS 3.31, Norton Utilities, PC-Tools Deluxe, and Windows 3.0. To make your installation even easier, Stacker offers toll-free technical support. Minimum requirements: hard drive, MS-DOS 3.0 or later, and 512KByte RAM. From Stac Electronics. Choosing the Right Printer!

Don't be confused by the wide selection of printers available in today's market. Here are a few pointers to help you select the right printer for your present and future needs.

Commodore-Ready vs. Parallel. Each printer we sell has a connector on its back or side to which a printer cable or interface attaches. Most of the printers we sell are "parallel" (also called "Centronics") printers. Two printers, the Star NX-1000C and NX-1000C Rainbow, are "Commodore-ready" printers.

Commodore-ready printers come complete with a cable to plug directly into your Commodore system. No other interface or cable is needed.

Parallel printers are designed to connect to IBM-compatible, Amiga, and other computers. To connect them to a Commodore system, you need a parallel interface such as those shown on page 46.

Choose a parallel printer if you think that you may want, either currently or in the future, to use the printer with a non-Commodore computer such as an IBM compatible or an Amiga. You may also have to choose a parallel printer if you need features, such as 24-wire printing, not available on a Commodore-ready printer.

Choose a Commodore-ready printer if you want to minimize your out-of-pocket cost and if you intend to use the printer only with your Commodore system.

24-Wire vs. 9-Wire Printing. All dot-matrix print is composed of tiny dots created by wires in the printhead. The quality of dot-matrix printing has improved remarkably since the early days when the dots were clearly visible. Today, even 9-wire printers are capable of excellent near-letter quality. For the ultimate in dot-matrix printing, 24-wire printers offer even smaller dots and higher resolution. This means that the letter-quality characters of a 24-wire printer will be slightly sharper than those of a 9-wire printer. We recommend 9-wire printers for most home, school, and light office use. If you intend to use the printer for extensive business correspondence or other applications where an extra polished look is important, consider a 24-wire printer.

Speed. Each printer we sell is rated for speed in characters per second (cps). Note that the speed of each printer will vary depending on whether it is printing in draft mode, near-letter quality, boldface, etc. All of the printers we sell are fast enough for home, school, and light office use. If you frequently print long documents, print primarily in near-letter quality, or print many short documents, you may find that one of the faster printers will save you time and increase your productivity.

Buffer. All of the printers we sell contain at least a small buffer. The buffer is an electronic holding area for data sent from the computer. Typically, the computer can send data much faster than the printer can actually print it. The bigger the buffer in the printer is, the sooner the computer can finish its task and be available for other uses. (If you do a lot of printing, particularly of longer documents, you may wish to consider an external buffer like the one shown on page 47; this can really enhance your productivity by freeing up the computer long before the printer is finished printing.)

STAR LASER PRINTER 4. What's the best reason to own a Star Micronics LaserPrinter 4? Maybe it's the H-P compatibility, from toner to font cartridges. Or, perhaps it's the optional Starpage board that provides true PostScript capability at a breakthrough price. Possibly, the best reason is the FREE 150-font cartridge that's included with your purchase.

But, what about all of the great features that come standard? You get crisp 300 dpi output that rivals more expensive printers, a footprint small enough for any desktop, 14 resident fonts, a full 1MByte RAM that gives you the freedom to download a variety of typefaces for fast and versatile printing, serial and parallel interfaces, a 50-sheet paper tray, H-P LaserJet IIP/Epson FX-850 emulation, and more.

The LaserPrinter 4 is expandable to 5MByte RAM. Optional Starpage board and 2MByte RAM required for PostScript. Limited 2-year parts and labor warranty. Sug. Retail $1495.00

Cartridge Port Extender Cable

CARTRIDGE PORT EXTENDER CABLE. Are you cramped for space behind your computer? Is it hard to reach your cartridge port to plug-in or swap cartridges? This handy cable is your solution.

The cartridge port on the C64 and C128 is unfortunately located in a somewhat awkward position— horizontally in the back, where it is hard to reach and impossible to see. Many users have installed cartridge expanders, which not only let you switch cartridges easily but also place them vertically for easier access. The cartridge expander, though, takes up a few more inches of table space— no problem for most users, but a drawback for those working in tight quarters. The cable connects to the cartridge port in back of the computer and lets you plug in your cartridge to its other end. Since the cable is flexible, you can locate the cartridge up to 11" away for easier access and more efficient use of table space. Not for use with memory expansion modules.
